TEXT: "ABOUT MYSELF"

My name is Tanya Bobrova. I am 17.

I am a first-year student at Sakhalin State College.

My family is not very large. We have five people in our family. I live with my parents, my younger sister and my grandmother. My father's name is Vladimir. He is forty years old. He is a doctor and he works at a hospital. My mother's name is Lyudmila. She is thirty-nine years old. She is a housewife. My younger sister Natasha is a pupil. She is in the seventh form. My grandmother lives with us. She doesn't work. She is a pensioner. I love my family. We are all friends and we love each other.

We live in a big flat in a new house. There are four rooms in our flat: a living room, a study, two bedrooms, a kitchen, and a bathroom. We have all modern conveniences: gas, hot water, running water, electricity and telephone.

I have my duties about the house. I must go shopping, clean the rooms. It's not difficult for me. I want our home to be clean and tidy. I think there is no place better than home.

I have many friends. Most of them are my classmates. We spend much time together, go for a walk or to a disco party, talk about lessons, music and discuss our problems.

I like reading. I like detective stories but I prefer to read historical novels or modern writers. I like to listen to modern music, but sometimes I like to listen to some classical music. My favourite composer is Tchaikovsky. I haven't much time to watch TV but sometimes I spend an hour or two watching an interesting film or a news programme. I like fresh air and exercises, but I have not much time for doing sports.

TEXT: MY FAMILY

My family is not very big, just a typical family: Dad, Mom, me, my brother and sister and our cat. My Mummy is forty-one; she is a teacher of Spanish at the University. She is a born teacher. My Dad is forty-two, he is a professional painter, he works for a design company. My parents both like their work very much.

My elder sister Natasha is nineteen, she goes to the University, she wants to be a doctor. She is fond of reading books on history and fiction. My younger brother Igor is only six years old, he goes to the kindergarten. He is very funny. Igor likes to play with our cat.

My grandparents are retired. They like gardening. They spend a lot of their time in the garden. They grow vegetables and fruits. We enjoy having fresh vegetables on our dinner table. I love my family very much. We always help each other. Everyone in my family is my best friend.

I'd like to point out, that in present time families have some problems. For example teens drink alcohol or use drugs. Sometimes teenagers develop interests and values different from those of their parents. That sets a conflict between two generations, which leads to a gap in mutual understanding. I'm convinced that sometimes parents do not care about their children. It is exactly at that age when young people need a piece of advice or help. Different TV programmes and magazines for the young come to their rescue.

In my opinion parents should help their children and find the right approach to them. Being able to view the problems more rationally, they should try to do their best to resolve them. We need to learn to talk our problems over in our family.

If we are able to do it, everything will be all right.

TEXT: MY HOUSEHOLD DUTIES

I think nobody likes it when his house is in a mess. Doing household duties and keeping the house clean and cozy are necessary in every flat.

My parents work hard and they get rather tired after work. So it goes without saying that I have to help them. Everyone in our family has some household duties.

My daily duties are making my bed, washing up, tidying my room in the evening, cleaning my shoes and taking out the rubbish. This is my usual routine. I also pick up my little sister from the kindergarten. Fortunately I don't have to cook any food because my mum and granny do that and they really enjoy cooking. I just sometimes help them and serve the table. Once or twice a week my mother asks me to go shopping to the nearest food supermarket. I usually buy some bread, milk, fruits and vegetables.

Once a week, on Sundays my parents give the flat a big cleaning. There is a lot of work to do: dusting the furniture, ironing the clothes, mopping the floor, clearing out the bathroom and the kitchen. I am busy with vacuum-cleaning the carpets in our bedrooms.

TEXT: MY HOME

Let me introduce the place where we live!

My parents and I have a three-roomed flat in one of the sleeping quarters of our town. There are three rooms, a hall, a kitchen, a bathroom, a toilet and two balconies in my flat.

When you enter, you appear in a long hall where you can find a set of wardrobes and a big mirror. On the right hand there is a kitchen. It is not very big but very cozy. There you can find all the appliances you need in a modern kitchen. There is a fridge, a gas cooker, a microwave oven, a coffee maker and so on. Also there is modern furniture, a kitchen table and four chairs. My family likes to spend time in the kitchen because it is the warmest and the most comfortable place in my flat.

Going along the hall, you will enter a living room. This room is my father's favourite. He likes to have a rest there, lying on the sofa and watching TV. There is a set of wardrobes and bookcases on the right side of the room. On the left side there is a sofa, two armchairs and a coffee table between them. Also there is a big TV set in front of the sofa. There is a big window and a balcony in this room.

There is a fluffy carpet on the floor. Our bathroom is painted in green colours. There we have a bathtub and a wash basin. The toilet-room is really very small. There is nothing except a toilet and a small cabinet next to it.

The last room in my flat is my parents' room. There is a double-bed, two bedside cabinets and a big wardrobe in this room. It is always a pleasure to rest there, to read a book or watch TV. There is the second balcony in this room.

As they say, "My home is my castle". So my home is a real castle for me and I don't want to have another one.

TEXT: SHOPPING

When we want to buy something, we go to a shop. The best place to do it is a department store and a supermarket. The supermarket has many self-service departments. I like it because there you can choose what you like and take it off the counter with your own hands.

When I come to the shop, I take a basket at the entrance and go inside. First I go to the butcher's department and take a good piece of pork and two chickens. Then I go to the greengrocer's department, because I need some potatoes, onions and cabbage. After that I take a package of macaroni at the grocer's department. Another department we frequently go to is a dairy where I can buy milk, cream, cheese, butter and many other milk products. On the way to the cash-desk I buy some candy, chocolate roll and biscuits for tea.

When you are at a big department store, you can use an escalator which takes you to different floors. There you can find the women's department to buy dresses, suits, skirts and many other things. In the men's clothing department you can choose suits, trousers, ties etc. In the cosmetic department one can buy face creams, shower gels, shampoos

I like to go shopping because it is comfortable to buy all things you need under one roof.

TEXT: OLIMPIC GAMES

The first record of the games dates from 776 BC in Greece. The important sports in the original Olympic Games were running, jumping, wrestling, throwing the discus and throwing the javelin. Only men competed, and they wore no clothes in order to have greater freedom of movement.

The first modern Olympiad took place in Athens in 1816. Since then the Olympic Games have been held every four years with only two exceptions because of the two world wars. There may be Summer and Winter Games.

In modern times the Olympic movement has become an enormous and expensive organization. The Winter Olympic Games are a multi-sport event held every four years.

The Winter Olympics have been hosted on three continents, but never in a country in the southern hemisphere. The United States has hosted the Games four times. France has been the host three times. Australia, Canada, Italy, Japan, Norway and Switzerland have hosted the Games twice.

In 2014 Sochi was the first Russian city to host the Winter Olympics. Our Government, Olympic Sports Committee and sportsmen were preparing for this event with great enthusiasm. POLITICAL SYSTEM OF RUSSIA

The Russian Federation was set up by the Constitution of 1993. After the disruption in 1991, The Soviet Union was broken up into an independent Russia and 14 other new, sovereign nations.

The Russian Federation is a Presidential (or a constitutional) republic. The President is the head of the state and is elected directly by the people. In fact he has much power, he controls all the three branches of power. The President is a commander in chief of the armed forces, he makes treaties and enforces laws, appoints the prime minister, cabinet members and key judges. The President can even dissolve the Duma if he doesn't agree with his suggestions three times running. The President has his administration, but it's not part of the Federal Government. The President is involved in the work of the legislative and executive branches.

The Federal Assembly represents the Legislative branch of power. It's made up of the two houses: the Federation Council and the State Duma, which make laws. The Federal Assembly is also called the Parliament, but it's not its official name. Both chambers are headed by chairmen sometimes called speakers. The Duma consists of 450 deputies (one half is elected personally by the population and the other half consists of the deputies who are appointed by their parties after voting). The members of the Federation Council are elected on a different basis. There are two representatives of each subject of the RF (89 subjects). Every law to be adapted must be approved by the State Duma, the Council of Federation and signed by the President. The President can veto laws passed by the Federal Assembly, but it can pass laws over the President's veto a two-thirds majority.

The Federal Government represents the executive branch of power. The President appoints its head, the Chairman of the Government, but the Duma must approve his appointment.

The juridical branch of power consists of the Constitutional Court, the Supreme Court and lower Courts. The responsibility of the Constitutional Court is to analyze the new laws to make sure they correspond to the laws of the state. The Constitutional Court has the right to declare actions of the President, the Federal Assembly and the Federal Government unconstitutional. The Supreme Court is the highest instance for civil and criminal cases.

SIGHTSEEING OF RUSSIA

Millions of people all over the world are fond of travelling. They travel to see other countries and continents, to discover different ways of life, to meet different people and to practice foreign languages. It goes without saying that travelling broadens the mind. While travelling we can see and learn a lot of things that we can never learn staying at home and watching TV or reading books. That's why a lot of foreign people come to Russia to get acquainted with Russian culture, with Russian customs and traditions.

Russia has always been a country attractive for foreigners. There are lots of villages and towns in Russia famous for their specific crafts: painted boxes in Palekh, wooden tableware in Khokhloma and toys in Dymkovo.

Tourists like to visit old Russian towns and cities famous for their ancient architecture. They are especially attracted by Russian cathedrals, churches and monasteries. One of the most interesting old cities in Russia is Novgorod. It is a treasury of architecture, painting and applied art created over the 11th to 17th centuries.

There is a lot to see in Russia, but first of all foreign tourists visit the capital of our country, Moscow. They visit Red Square, the heart of Moscow. The most ancient monument of Red Square is St. Basil's Cathedral. With its nine beautifully painted cupolas, it is a real masterpiece of ancient Russian architecture.

The Kremlin is very impressive. Here you can see old cathedrals, the Bell Tower of Ivan the Great, the State Kremlin Palace, the Tsar Cannon and the Tsar Bell, the biggest cannon and bell in the world. The tallest Kremlin tower, the Spasskaya Tower, has become the symbol of the country.

If you will come to the Alexandrovsky Gardens, you see the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Not far from the Alexandrovsky Gardens, you will see Christ the Saviour Cathedral, with its huge beautiful gilded dome. There are also a lot of beautiful palaces, and monuments in Moscow.

There are more than 80 museums in our capital. The largest museums are the Pushkin Museum of Fine Arts and the State Tretyakov Gallery, which houses a rich collection of Russian painting and Russian icons. Other unique museums in Moscow are the State History Museum, the Polytechnical Museum and many others. Moscow is famous for its theatres, too. The best-known of them is the Bolshoi Opera House.

Another interesting place to visit in Moscow is the All-Russia Exhibition Centre. The most admired feature of the Exhibition Centre is its fountains. The Exhibition Centre is a large cultural and commercial complex where different international exhibitions and fairs are held.

Every foreigner should visit St. Petersburg, the second largest city in Russia and one of the most splendid cities in the world. It was founded in 1703 by Peter the Great. St. Petersburg is indeed a wonderful city. The Winter Palace, St. Isaac's Cathedral, the Peter-and-Paul Fortress, and the Admiralty Building attract thousands of tourists. The Hermitage and the Russian Museum contain the richest collections of pictures in the world. The city is called the Northern Venice, because there are 65 rivers, branches and canals there with artistically decorated bridges. It's also famous for its beautiful white nights.

There are a lot of Hero-cities in our country. And I would recommend that my foreign friends visit one of them. Volgograd is a legendary city, because here in 1943 the Soviet Army won the great victory over the fascists. The city was completely ruined during the war, but now it is a beautiful city again. The symbol of Volgograd is the Mamaev Hill. Besides, you can visit the Stalingrad Battle Panorama Museum.

There are a lot of other interesting towns and cities in Russia, which are all worth visiting.

ANIMALS IN DANGER

At present a thousand species are almost extinct because we hunt them or damage their environment. Here are some of the animals in danger. The World Wildlife Fund is fighting to save them.

The French priest, Pierre David, was the first European to see a giant panda in China in 1869. Today the giant panda is one of the rarest species in the world. There are perhaps only 300 of them left. Giant panda likes to live in bamboo forests, but these are slowly disappearing. Fortunately the Chinese government now protects the panda, so it should survive. The World Wildlife Fund uses panda as its symbol.

The story of the whale has been another great wildlife tragedy. Some of these are the largest animals that have ever lived. A blue whale can weigh over 125 tonnes. Whales are mammals, not fish and they are highly intelligent. They send messages to each other over very long distances with high-pitched sounds. Whales are now in great danger because hunters have killed too many of them.

Modern ships and machines have made it easy to hunt these animals, and they are often killed in a very painful and cruel way. Some countries have agreed to protect the whale, but others have not and still kill too many.

People destroy _____ and cut down trees to make furniture. They forget that they can't live without trees and plants, because they fill the air with _____. Oxygen is necessary for our _____. We can't stay indifferent to these problems.

There are a lot of special organizations which are trying to save our nature. One of them is _____. Their aim is to help _____ to survive, to rescue animals, to save _____, which are in danger of destruction. We must find the right way to save our land, people and animals. We must take care of _____ because we are a part of it.

Задание 6. Прочитайте и переведите текст (Read and translate the text).

THE PROTECTION OF NATURE

Since ancient times Nature was the source of people's life. For thousands of years people lived in harmony with environment and they thought that natural riches were unlimited. The development of civilization increased man's interference in nature.

Large cities with thousands of smoky industrial enterprises pollute the air we breathe and the water we drink. Every year world industry pollutes the atmosphere with about 1000 million tons of dust and other harmful substances. Many cities suffer from smog. Beautiful old forests disappear forever. Their disappearance upsets the oxygen balance. As a result some rare species of animals, birds, fish and plants disappear forever. A number of lakes and rivers dry up.

The pollution of air and destruction of the ozone layer are the results of man's attitude towards Nature.

The protection of the environment is a universal concern. We must be very active to create a serious system of ecological security.

VEGETATION AND WILDLIFE

Britain was originally a land of vast forests. Mainly oak and beech in the Lowlands and pine and birch in the Highlands, with great stretches of marshland and smaller areas of moors. In the course of time, much forest land was cleared and almost all Lowlands outside the industrial areas were put under cultivation. Today only about 6 per cent of the total land area remains wooded.

Extensive forests remain in eastern and northern Scotland and in south-eastern and western England. Oak, elm, ash, and beech are the commonest trees in England, while Scotland has much pine and birch. The Highlands with thin soil are largely moorland with heather and grasses. In the cultivated areas that make up most of Britain there are many wild flowers, flowering plants and grasses.

The fauna or animal life of Britain is much like that of north-western Europe, to which it was once joined. Many larger mammals such as bear, wolf have been hunted to extinction, others are now protected by law. There are many foxes. Otters are common along rivers and streams, and seals live along much of the coast. Hedgehogs, hares, rabbits, rats and mice are numerous. Deer live in some of the forests in the Highlands of Scotland and England.

Some 230 kinds of birds live in Britain, and another 200 are regular visitors, many are songbirds. The most numerous are blackbirds, sparrow and starling. Robin Redbreast is the national bird of Britain. The number of ducks, geese and other water fowl has diminished during recent years.

There are many threats to wildlife and ecological balance around the coast. The biggest threat to the coastline is pollution.

PLACES OF INTEREST IN GREAT BRITAIN

Britain is rich in its historic places which link the present with the past.

The oldest part of London is Lud Hill, where the city is originated. About a mile west of it there is Westminster Palace, where the king lived and the Parliament met, and there is also Westminster Abbey, the coronation church.

Liverpool, the "city of ships", is England's second greatest port, ranking after London. The most interesting sight in the Liverpool is the docks. They occupy a river frontage of seven miles. The University of Liverpool, established in 1903, is noted for its School of Tropical Medicine. And in the music world Liverpool is a well-known name, for it's the home town of "The Beatles".

Stratford-on-Avon lies 93 miles north-west of London. Shakespeare was born here in 1564 and here he died in 1616. Cambridge and Oxford Universities are famous centres of learning.

Stonehenge is a prehistoric monument, presumably built by Druids, members of an order of priests in ancient Britain. Tintagel Castle is King Arthur's reputed birthplace. Canterbury Cathedral is the seat of the Archbishop of Canterbury, head of the Church of England.

The British Museum is the largest and richest museum in the world. It was founded in 1753 and contains one of the world's richest collections of antiquities. The Egyptian Galleries contain human and animal mummies.

Madam Tussaud's Museum is an exhibition of hundreds of life-size wax models of famous people of yesterday and today. The collection was started by Madam Tussaud, a French modeller in wax, in the 18th century. Here you can meet Marilyn Monroe, Elton John, the Royal Family, the Beatles and many others: writers, movie stars, singers, politicians, sportsmen, etc.

THE ROLE OF TECHNICAL PROGRESS

The scientific and technical revolution has changed our life very much. The computers, the mobile phones and other digital devices have entered our everyday life. The atomic, space and energy age was followed by the age of computers. The tasks which had seemed eternal before have been solved one by one by computers. During the last decade many fundamental changes occurred because of electronic devices. It is even difficult to imagine the social and economic consequences of the microelectronic revolution.

The large use of computers has influenced our life in such a way that it was difficult to imagine 15 or 20 years ago. On the one hand, computers have simplified our life greatly. If you typed a text on the typewriter and made a mistake you had to type the whole page again. Making several copies of the same document used to be a difficult job too. But now it's quite different. Correcting mistakes is easy. Computer also helps us to buy goods, find information, book tickets, make presentations and annual reports, and make difficult calculations. Time is saved for leisure. Leisure time is also influenced by computer and other periphery devices. You no longer go to the music shops - many things are available on the internet. You needn't write letters to your relatives or friends - you can send an e-mail. And your photo albums are on computer too. Computer games are probably also a part of your free time. They became more and more realistic and complicated, and for many people it becomes impossible to tear themselves away. This means that electronic devices, such as computer and TV set are used mostly for entertainment and consume most of the time that could be spent on work, going for a walk and sleeping. Man becomes a slave of the devices which were designed to make him stronger. Is there a way out? In fact, there is, but many people don't know it and are still slaves. The best decision is not to give these equipments place in your heart. They should do their work. And when you have a rest, prefer real communication to virtual one and living an active life to watch in films about crime. Then electronics will be not our lord or enemy but our friend!

ATCHIVEMENTS IN SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

It's difficult to overestimate the role of science and technology in our life. They accelerate the development of civilization and help us in our co-operation with nature.

Scientists investigate the laws of the universe, discover the secrets of nature, and apply their knowledge in practice improving the life of people. Let's compare our life nowadays with the life of people at the beginning of the 20th century. It has changed beyond recognition. Our ancestors hadn't the slightest idea of the trivial things created by the scientific progress that we use in our every day life. I mean refrigerators, TV sets, computers, microwave ovens, radio telephones, what not.

They would seem miracles to them that made our life easy, comfortable and pleasant. On the other hand, the great inventions of the beginning of the 20th century, I mean radio, airplanes, combustion and jet engines have become usual things and we can't imagine our life without them. A century is a long period for scientific and technological progress, as it's rather rapid. Millions of investigations the endless numbers of outstanding discoveries have been made. Our century has had several names that were connected with a certain era in science and technology. At first it was called the atomic age due to the discovery of the splitting of the atom. Then it became the age of the conquest of space when for the first time in the history of mankind a man overcame the gravity and entered the Universe. And now we live in the information era when the computer network embraces the globe and connects not only the countries and space stations but a lot of people all over the world. All these things prove the power and the greatest progressive role of science in our life.

But every medal has its reverse. And the rapid scientific progress has aroused a number of problems that are a matter of our great concern. These are ecological problems, the safety of nuclear power stations, the nuclear war threat, and the responsibility of a scientist. But still we are grateful to the outstanding men of the past and the present who have courage and patience to disclose the secrets of the Universe.

Television was used experimentally as far as 1930. But its popular use began only some ten years later. And in about 20 years colour television became dominant over black-and-white.

Audio and video recordings are most popular means of communication today. Also are popular filming and photography.

High-technology revolution in electronics influenced the sphere of communication and greatly changed it. The new technology used for space exploration influenced modern communication both in offices and home. It became possible for business people to communicate with their colleges in faraway places.

1. For how long has television been used by people?
2. What is the result of the influence of the new technologies on communication?

Задание 5. Прочитайте и ответьте на вопросы (Read the text and answer the questions).

High-technology revolution in electronics influenced the sphere of communication and greatly changed it. For example, it became possible for people to receive television programs through cables. A modern cable is a complex wire system that makes it possible to transmit a number of television signals at the same time.

People today also widely used videotape recorders to record television programs. One of the most interesting inventions of today is also the usage of satellites for video and audio communication. People can receive programs through using satellites.

1. What is a modern cable?
2. What are satellites used for?

Задание 6. Прочитайте текст и обсудите вопросы (Read the text and discuss with your partner the following questions):

- 1) Where is the fission products confined?
- 2) In what part of the installation is the reactor vessel placed?
- 3) In what way are the hot radioactive waste products disposed?

Any operating nuclear power plant release fission products into the environmental pollution, which causes the environmental pollution. To prevent the harmful effects of nuclear power release, the nuclear power plants are supplied with protective installations that serve as barriers to the pollution. First, the nuclear fuel and the fission products are confined within sealed tubes made of stainless steel or zirconium. Then the assembly of tubes is placed in a steel reactor vessel. Finally, the steel reactor vessel is placed in a large steel and concrete housing.

As to the hot radioactive waste products they are disposed in heavily shielded cylinders. The cylinders are buried 305 to 610 meters underground.

FAIRS AND EXHIBITIONS

Every year a lot of international, national and specialized exhibitions and fairs are held in different countries of the world. The number of countries and companies which take part in them is growing from year to year and the scope of fairs and exhibitions is becoming larger.

The display during these exhibitions includes a wide range of exhibits which show the latest achievements in different field of industry, science and agriculture of many countries.

Usually fairs and exhibitions are crowded with visitors, who show much interest in the exhibits on display.

At international and national exhibitions commercial centers are established where participants can negotiate the sale and the purchase of different goods.

Every exhibition helps visitors to see the achievements of different countries. It is also a method to advertise products. Fairs and exhibitions are usually held under various mottoes: people and progress, peace and progress through economic cooperation and so on. International fairs and exhibitions pave the way for the consolidation of friendship among countries and nations.

CHOOSING A CAREER

Choosing a career is like any other activity; it is best to work to a plan. Too many people start looking for a specific job before thinking out their occupational aims. It is a good idea to begin by attempting to define in clear terms what your requirements are from a career. This involves taking a realistic view of your strengths and weaknesses. You may think for example, that you would like a job which involves organizing people, but liking such a job is not a sufficient justification if experience you already may have suggests that this is not your strong point. On the other hand, you should remember that training will equip you to do new things. A further point to consider is how far you will be willing to do for a time things which you do not like knowing that they are necessary to achieve your longer term objectives. Having thought carefully about the sort of person you are, try to work out a realistic set of occupational requirements. In particular, you can answer to important questions. First: what sort of life do you want to lead? For example, do you want to live in the country or in the town? Is leisure time of great importance to you? Is the size of your salary important? Do you want to put down roots or travel widely? Second: what sort of work do you want to do? For example, do you like working alone or with others? Does teaching people appeal to you? Do you want to be an organizer of other people's activities? Do you want to develop new ideas and initiate changes?

As for me, I have made up my mind to be an engineer. As my parents are an engineers they have made a great influence on my choice and I can say that this profession runs the family. My choice of this occupation didn't come as a sudden flash. I think that nowadays this profession is of great need and importance to our country. It is my aim to be a qualified specialist and to serve the interests of my country. To be a well prepared engineer I should have some important qualities: great capability persistence, knowledge of science and, of course, knowledge of foreign languages. Employers prefer to hire specialists who are familiar with the latest technology. Marketing, technical resources, logistical and technical support are all possible career options for an engineer. In spite of these arguments we mustn't forget about everybody's vacation. I think that my facilities combined with the knowledge would be quiet enough in my work.

THOMAS ALVA EDISON (1847 – 1931)

Thomas Alva Edison was born on February 11, 1847 in Ohio. At the age of seven, he entered school but left it very soon. The teacher thought that he was a dull boy. His mother then became his teacher. The boy loved books. He had a wonderful memory.

Edison began to work when he was twelve years old. His first job was a newspaper boy on a train. He soon began to produce his own newspaper. It was about the size of a handkerchief. He gathered news, printed, and sold the newspapers all by himself. He had a small laboratory in the baggage car of this train. There he carried out experiments. Edison kept records of all his experiments. Then Edison got lessons in telegraphy and the next five years he worked as a telegraphist in various cities of the US and Canada.

In 1877, Edison invented a photograph. This taking machine both recorded and played back. It resembled the present day tape recorder more than a record player.

Then Edison became interested in the electric-light bulb for lightning streets and buildings. It had taken Edison and his assistants thirteen months to produce the incandescent lamp, but he already knew that success awaited it. Edison was sure that the lamp should work for a hundred hours.

Edison carried out experiments from morning till night. All his inventions were the results of his endless work. He sometimes made thousands of experiments. For months, he slept no more than one or two hours a day. Yet he had time to read not only scientific books. He was fond of Shakespeare and Tom Pain. He had over 10 000 volumes in his library.

Edison continued to work all through his long life. He attributed his success not so much to genius as to hard work. Edison's inventions include the photograph, or gramophone, the megaphone, the cinematograph, the improved lamp of incandescent light, many greatly improved systems of telegraphic transmission and numerous other things.

ISAAC NEWTON (1642 - 1727)

The great English scientist Isaac Newton was born in the village of Woolthorpe, not far from the university town of Cambridge on December 25, 1642. Little Isaac was left to the care of his mother, grandmother and uncle who sent him to school. In his early years, young Isaac showed more as one who could make things with his hands than a scholar. He made various things. He made a clock that worked by water. He also made a sundial. When Isaac grew older, he took a considerable interest in mathematics. His ability as mathematician and physicist was very important. His first physical experiment was carried out, when he was sixteen years old.

On June 5, 1661, Newton entered the University of Cambridge where he studied mathematics. Soon he became famous for his contribution to mathematics by the time he was twenty-one. When Newton was twenty-two years old, he began studying the theory of gravitation. In 1665, while he was on a visit to his native village, he saw an apple fall from a tree and began wondering what force made the apple fall.

At Cambridge Newton read with great interest the writings of Galileo, he knew the geometry of Descartes; he worked out the methods of calculus. Therefore, when he began to think “of gravity extending to the orb of the moon” he immediately put this idea to the test of calculation. Newton performed many experiments with light and found that white light was made up of rays of different colours. He invented a reflecting telescope, which was very small in diameter but magnified objects to forty diameters. Newton developed a mathematical method, which is known as the Binomial Theorem and differential and integral calculus.

In 1669, Newton was appointed professor, began lectures on mathematics and optics at Cambridge, and continued his work on the problem of gravitation. In 1673, Newton gathered together all his earlier calculations and succeeded in completing his whole theory. He examined the attraction of one mass to another. He showed that a massive sphere here attracts another as if the whole mass were in the center. This was of great importance. It enabled Newton to treat the problems of the sun, moon, and earth like problems of geometry. He at last justified the method of treatment, which he had first adopted, for the problem of the earth and moon. The proof of his universe square law was not complete. He had demonstrated that the gravitation pull of the earth extends as far as the moon and keeps it in its orbit. He demonstrated that this pull is in accordance with the same law as that by which a stone falls to the ground, namely gravity. Newton’s great work “Elements of Natural Philosophy” was published only in the middle of 1687.

Newton’s law of universe squares joined in one simple mathematical statement the behavior of the planets as well as of bodies on the earth. It was the first synthesis of physical knowledge. As such, his contribution to science is unique.

Isaac Newton died in 1727 at the age of 85. He was buried with honours as a national hero. It was the first time that national honours of this kind had been accorded in England to a man of science.

JAMES WATT

James Watt was born in Greenock, Scotland, and was taught at home. Later he went to Greenock Grammar School.

His technical expertise seems to have been obtained from working in his father's workshop and from early in life he showed academic promise. His early formal training was as an instrument maker in London and Glasgow.

Watt combined the expertise of a scientist with that of a practical engineer, for later he was not only to improve the heat engine but also to devise new mechanisms.

Watt was interested in making experimental models of steam engines and this marks a historical milestone in engineering development, for they were the first experimental apparatus purposely constructed for engineering research. Watt's early interest in steam arose from experience in repairing a model steam engine in 1764, and in 1765 he invented the separate steam condenser. In 1769 he took out a patent on the condenser in which steam came into direct contact with cold water. That was a milestone by which steam engineering reached its practical and usable form.

In 1784 he took out a patent for a reaction turbine at a time when continental engineers were only considering similar approaches. An improved centrifugal governor was to follow in 1788 and a design for a pressure gauge in 1790.

In the development of the steam engine James Watt represents the perfecting of a sequence of stages beginning with the Newcomen engine and ending with the parallel motion and sun/planet gearing.

The latter is said to have been invented by William Murdock but patented by Watt.

In the scientific field Watt's finest memorial, apart from steam engines, is his establishment of the unit of power — the rate of doing work. He coined the term horsepower (hp), one horse being defined as equivalent to 33,000 ft lb/min.

James Watt died in 1819 in Heathfield, after a life of incomparable technical value. Later, a statue to Watt was placed in Westminster Abbey.

James Watt was a Scottish inventor and mechanical engineer, known for his improvements of the steam engine. Watt was born on January 19, 1736 in Greenock, Scotland. At the age of 19 he became interested in improving the steam engine which was used at that time to pump out water from mines.

Watt determined the properties of steam, especially the relation of its density to its temperature and pressure, and designed a separate condensing chamber for the steam engine that prevented large losses of steam in the cylinder. Watt's first patent, in 1769, covered this device and other improvements on steam engine. The watt, the unit of power, was named in his honour.

FARADAY PUTS ELECTRICITY TO WORK

Michael Faraday, who was born in 1791 and died in 1867, gathered together and set in order all the work of the scientists who had worked on electrical problems before him.

In 1823, he discovered how to make an electrical motor. In 1831, he built the first generator, then called dynamo. The modern car has both a starting motor and a generator. The starting motor draws electric current from the car battery to start engine. The generator is driven by the engine to recharge the battery and to furnish electric power for all the electrical conveniences in the car.

In 1833, Faraday discovered the laws of electrolysis.

The works of many other scientists were influenced by the discoveries made by Faraday. As a result of Faraday's work Morse was able to invent the electromagnetic telegraph, Bell, the telephone and Edison, the electric light. Their inventions have profoundly changed the lives of nearly everyone in the world. Thus, Edison's Congressional Medal of Honor certificate declared: "He illuminated the path of progress by his invention".
